

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF ALASKA

ORDER NO. 1986

Order allowing the administrative director to establish provisional rules, procedures, and standards for online dispute resolution.

IT IS ORDERED:

The administrative director of the Alaska Court System may establish by administrative bulletin provisional rules, procedures, and standards for participants to resolve disputes using the court's online dispute resolution platform. Online dispute resolution (ODR) is a branch of dispute resolution that uses technology to facilitate the resolution of disputes between participants, usually asynchronously. It involves negotiation, mediation, for some case types an online trial, or a combination of all three. The administrative director will consult with the chief justice of the supreme court on proposed rules, procedures, or standards.
