

"Chilkat Dancers of Klukwan"
by William Blackmore

According to a 1973 article in the Anchorage Daily News, "the dancers are wearing the ceremonial Chilkat blankets, which were woven of mountain goat wool and stiffened with the inner bark of the cedar tree. The female dancer wears mountain goat horns on her headdress, which give her great powers."

Location: Snowden Administration Building, Anchorage

Artwork purchased under the "Percent for Art" program.

All works of art within this web site are protected under U.S. copyright laws and international conventions. No portion of the artwork may be used, downloaded, copied or transferred electronically, without prior written permission from the artist.