SUBJECT: Form of Payment - Bail

In addition to the forms of payment specified in Administrative Rule 9.1(a), bail may be paid by credit or debit card, including any assessed convenience fee, as designated in this bulletin unless specifically prohibited by court order. Bail may be paid by credit or debit card in person at the clerk of court's office during regular business hours at court locations with a credit card processing machine. Bail may also be paid online through CourtView by credit or debit card upon request to the clerk of court's office or designated staff member. Payment can be made online through CourtView only after providing the appropriate documents and information as instructed. If the online payment is not completed within 72 hours after the monetary bail amount is added to the financial docket in the criminal case in CourtView, the request may be canceled and the person must submit a new request to pay bail online. Credit and debit card payments may not be accepted by phone.
