What is the Alaska State Court Law Library?

The Alaska State Court Law Library serves the legal information needs of Alaskans by selecting, organizing, and facilitating access to legal research and court system information.

Our mission is to provide accessible and comprehensive legal information resources and services to the judiciary, the legal community, and the public.

There are 3 staffed law libraries and 13 locations with public access computers across Alaska. The main library collection and statewide administration is at the Anchorage Law Library, but library services are available throughout the state.

Use our catalog to search for online & print resources statewide at <https://a50019.eos-intl.net/A50019/OPAC>.

What Can You Find at the Law Library?

Alaska

- Current and superseded Alaska laws, regulations, and court rules
- Alaska appellate decisions published in the Pacific Reporter
- Pre-statehood decisions of Alaska's territorial courts
- Decisions from several Alaska state agencies
- Alaska Supreme Court & Alaska Court of Appeals briefs
- Alaska legislative history materials

Other

- Other state statutes and appellate decisions
- Federal statutes and regulations
- Reported federal decisions
- Federal legislative history materials
- Law reviews and journals
- Legal encyclopedias and dictionaries
- Looseleaf services
- Treatises on a wide range of topics

The print collections are located in Anchorage, Fairbanks, and Juneau. The Anchorage Law Library contains the largest print collection and the government depository collection.

All locations have public computers with access to Westlaw, HeinOnline, eBooks, and other internet based legal resources.

How Can Library Staff Help?

The Alaska State Court Law Library serves the legal research needs of all Alaskans. Library staff members are available to assist you in Anchorage, Fairbanks, and Juneau.
